720 Youngsters Getting Salk Vaccine This Week

Some howling and kicking in fright, some apprehensive but resigned, some swaggering with well-forged unconcern, but all unaware of the part they are playing in one of the most dramatic events in the history of medical science, 720 Hancock County first and second graders are filing through City Hall this week for polio shots.

Health department officials, thumbs aching from depressing hypodermic plungers, are jabbing needles into as many as 200 little

St. Rose de Lima schools, with the second shot to be given May 5.

The initial series will be completed tomorrow with children from Taylor, Webb, Kin, Tamm, and Valena C. Jones being vaccinated. They will get their second shot May 6.

The free vaccine is being administered only to pupils of the first and second grades whose parents signed a certificate requesting the vaccine. In a statement to the EAGLE this week, Dr. C. M. Shipp, county health officer, said:

KIDS GET ICE CREAM WITH POLIO VACCINE

The Crosby Ice Cream Company of Piquette is donating a cup of ice cream to each child in Hancock and Pearl River counties who receives the Salk vaccine for polio.

Arms a day as buses containing the county's small fry continue to roll up to the health department.

The first load arrived Tuesday morning at 9:15—45 minutes early—and there will be no let-up for the tired health department personnel until the last group, slated to arrive at 1:30 tomorrow afternoon, receive their free Salk polio vaccine.

Tuesday's schedule included children from Leetown, Catahoula, Lakoshere, Clermont Harbor, Waveland and St. Joseph Academy. They will receive their second shot in the series May 3.

Wednesday first and second graders from Christ Episcopal Day School, Aaron Academy, Jainesville, Dedaux and Bay Central received their first shot, with the second slated May 4.

Today's vaccinations are being administered to Sellers and

Some confusion has arisen in the administration of polio vaccine. Early in the program, we were requested by the Polio Foundation, which is the source of our vaccine, to submit a list of the schools in the county and also the number enrolled in the first and second grades. We prepared a request certificate to be signed by the parents for those children in the first and second grades to be vaccinated. The parents of the child were given two weeks to decide whether or not they wanted their child vaccinated.

"These certificates were picked up and were the basis for the number of doses that we would require."

"After the vaccine was ordered, we continued to get requests for polio shots."

"We knew the supply of vaccine would be limited," Dr. Shipp said. "The Health Department cannot now go back and include these late requests without denying vaccine to others who were the first to qualify. The limited amount of vaccine allocated to us is no fault of your Health Department, for we received exactly the number of doses we ordered."

"The Health Department will be unable to furnish vaccine in doses beyond the number of requests that we got back from the parents of these children."

ALVIN GENIN NAMED TO ELECTION COMMISSION

Alvin Genin of the Cue Oil Company has been appointed by Secretary of State Heber Laddner to fill a vacancy on the Hancock County Election Commission.

Registration Of Voters From Jan. 26-Mar. 23 Ruled Invalid

All new voter registrations during a period beginning Jan. 26 and ending March 23, 1955, are invalid, Hancock County Registrar of Voters A. C. Mitchell said this week. All persons registering during this period must re-register by July 7 to remove any doubt as to their legal qualifications as voters.

An amendment to the State Constitution in reference to registration of voters was adopted by the vote of the people at the November, 1954 election. By an act of the Legislature, this amendment was inserted into the Constitution on Jan. 26, 1955. However, the new acts were not actually passed until March 24, 1955.

This, according to a ruling of the Attorney General, left the state without a registration law from Jan. 26—Mar. 23.

In a statement to voters who registered during this period, Registrar Mitchell said:

"I am very sorry to have to ask you to go through the procedure of registering again, and hope you will not be put to any great inconvenience in doing so."

Mitchell stated that registrations made during the January-March period were "made in good faith in the light of the knowledge we had at the time."

Only those people registering during this period are affected by the Attorney General's ruling.

"We regret the circumstances that brought about the unpleasant situation in which we find ourselves—a situation general throughout the entire state," Mitchell declared.

He said Circuit Clerks of the state made an effort to have the Legislature pass some kind of remedial act making these registrations valid, but were unsuccessful due to legal barriers.

"You will find the personnel of this office will be pleased to assist you in filling out the new application form for registering and doing all the other necessary things to eliminate any and all unnecessary delay," Registrar Mitchell said.

Sidelines Club Plans Stands

The St. Stanislaus Sideline Club has decided to look into the idea of erecting a concrete stand at the football field. A committee composed of Vincent J. Piazza and Maurice Artigues will report on costs at an early date.

The Sideline Club will sponsor a Spaghetti Supper Wednesday, May 18 and a Fair on Saturday and Sunday, September 3 and 4 to help obtain funds for the erection of the permanent stand which will occupy the West side of the playing field. A donation of five hundred dollars already has been made for the enterprise.

The baseball field and the track will be moved to the field adjoining the West wall of the Stadium. This field will be cleared this summer at the same time as the ravine will be covered in the new Campus.

The electrical score board will be built some time late in August. Plans are also in the making for a press box which will probably be built on the new concrete stands.

Refreshments were served. Next monthly meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Henchy, F. Henchy.

Pat Rutherford Is Candidate For Supervisor Beat 5

M. D. "Pat" Rutherford this week announced his candidacy for Board of Supervisors, Beat Five, in the forthcoming Democratic Primary election in August.

His formal statement to the voters follows:

I wish to take advantage of the medium of the newspapers to, at this time, make this my formal announcement as a candidate for the Board of Supervisors, Beat Five, Hancock County, Mississippi.

It is my belief that all candidates should run upon their merits and not the demerits of their opponents and to run a clean and fair race, and I assure each and everyone of you that it is my sincere purpose, and I shall not deviate from that purpose, to run upon my merits and will not under any circumstances engage in anything but fair tactics in this race for supervisor.

In submitting this my candidacy to the voters of Beat Five, I think it only fair that they know a brief history of my life. I was born in Bay St. Louis on February 12th, 1914. I attended Grammar School at Bayou La Croix School, and completed my High School education in Bay High, in the City of Bay St. Louis, having lived all of my life in Hancock County.

It is gratifying for me to note that I have only offered for public office two terms and was twice elected to the office of Justice of the Peace, and I want to assure each and everyone of you that I am extremely grateful for the support that was given me in each of my races.

There seems to be a mistaken belief about the duties of the members of the Board of Supervisors in that the idea, somehow or other, has been fixed in the minds of some people that each member of the Board of Supervisors separately and distinctly represents his beat. The law prescribes that the Board of Supervisors shall represent all of the County regardless of what Beat they may come from.

While I realize that the voters of Beat Five are the ones who

WHITFIELD URGES GETTING ID TAGS

Director of Civil Defense Ken Whitfield has urged local residents to support identification tagging programs for civilians because "in natural disaster, the tags can help reduce anxiety—in war they could be essential to the national well-being."

Calling attention to the greatly increased Civil Defense problem resulting from new knowledge of the threat of radioactive fallout in Atomic or H-Bomb attack, Whitfield declared: "The Civil Defense tagging program which is conducted by state and local governments, would be vital to keeping families together and in relocating civilians following an attack."

BUREAU CHIEF SAYS BOMB EFFECTS CAUSE MARCH TEMPERATURES

By W. M. Colmer
In spite of the low temperatures in early March, the month as a whole averaged several degrees above normal throughout southern Mississippi thus bearing out the March forecast of relatively warm weather.

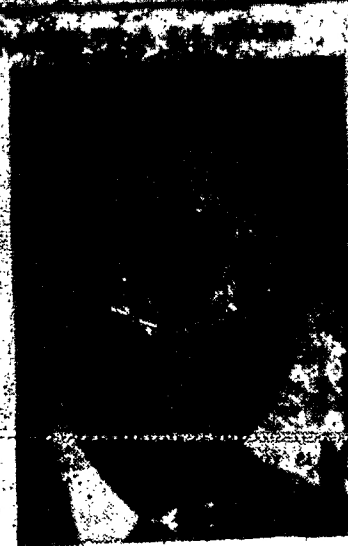

"In summary, it is our opinion that the weather of this, and recent years, has not been markedly different from previously observed conditions. Our studies of atomic bombs and weather have revealed no connection between the two. Nevertheless, we are continuing to investigate this subject."

We understand that the possible relationship between atomic bombs and the weather is also under continuing investigation by the Atomic Energy Commission.

Whether these investigations will result in a different answer in the light of broader experience remains to be seen.

Humorous, Unusual Occurrences Mark Phone Service During Strike

If you've wondered how your long distance service could be as good during a strike as in normal times, the answer, according to J. C. Dabney, Manager, is that those not participating in the strike, aided by personnel from all departments, have joined forces in order to maintain this vital service.

Secretaries have left their usual desks and put on headsets to man the Mississippi Coast switchboards. So have accountants, clerks, engineers, service representatives and commercial salesmen. Telephone executives have gone to the kitchen, preparing the nutritious meals which the hungry, hardworking people need at all hours.

These people have moved into the new jobs with determination. They've had to learn the language of the long distance operator. "BY" means the line doesn't answer. "BY" means the line is busy. They have had to learn how to put through calls on the complicated long distance board, nerve center of the circular toll dialing system which enable the local operator to dial the number straight through to distant cities. And they have gained experience and know-how fast.

Those inexperienced in long distance work have had what they describe as harrowing experiences.

One woman, who didn't know about the cut-off key on the board, found that she could not hear the customer on the other end of the line. She frantically summoned a supervisor.

"I've just electrocuted this customer," she said.

For a man operator, the perplexing caligraph machine which times the customers' calls, was a problem. After the supervisor, had carefully explained to him how the machine works, he said: "I know, but how does the machine know which ticket to time?" She explained to him that the miracles of telephony had not gone quite that far. He'd have with the friendly, informal manner of the new operator. One customer was surprised at the personalized manner of the operator calling his home recently. She simply said, "Your mother is calling you, Mr. Jones."

The usual procedure is to have a collect call from Miss Charlotte Jones. Will you accept the charge?

Another operator was surprised to receive a collect call for "Too Foo" at the county jail.

New operators have quickly developed a sense of responsibility of helping those in trouble. A call was received from a woman at an airport who frantically explained that she had just received a long distance call advising that her husband had suddenly died in Texas, but that her plane had been temporarily grounded because of the fog and she didn't know what to do.

The operator, realizing that the woman was in a state of shock, held her on the line and checked the other airlines, buses and train schedules until the grateful caller was on her way.

The company's information operators have experienced many unusual incidents. One operator, when having difficulty in understanding the pronunciation of a name to be looked up, asked how it might be spelled. The customer replied, "I don't spell it, I just see it."

Another reply to an information operator when requested to spell the name was, "No, ma'am, I Administration.

However, for this relief to be effective, particularly in helping tung growers and in bolstering the economy of the five or six South Mississippi counties whose basic cash crop is tung it now appears that some liberalization of the FHA regulations will be needed. The difficulty arises from the policy of that agency of making loans only to people primarily engaged in farming.

That is, the Administration has taken the position that it cannot make loans, for example, for a rural carrier or a banker or a schoolteacher or a garage mechanic who farms in his spare time, since that is not his primary occupation. Many tung groves are farmed under contract for owners who are engaged in other occupations, but who are in great need, after a second year's crop loss, of disaster relief to finance a new crop.

If production loans cannot be secured for the cultivators of these orchards, it is obvious that the agricultural laborers who depend for a livelihood upon wages from cultivating and harvesting these groves, as well as the merchant and the bankers and, in fact, the economy of the area, will suffer. Efforts are being made to secure some liberalization of this disaster relief program.

TO CRASH FATAL TO RETNA MAN

Charles H. Donohue, 721 Boe, Gretna, La., died Sunday at 5:40 a.m. in a Gulfport hospital from injuries received in a smashup when his auto over-rotated between 11:30 p.m. Saturday on Highway 90, about 10 miles west of Bay St. Louis. State Highway Patrolman William Ken- and Marion Cruthirds, who in- quired the accident, said wit- nesses told them Donohue's car was traveling at a speed es- timated between 60 and 80 miles an hour, then went out of control and overturned a num- ber of times. The car landed upside down in the middle of the highway, with driver pinned head down un- der the steering wheel. He re- mained trapped in the car for an hour before he could be removed and taken to the hos- pital. Donohue reported the car totally destroyed.

F. Aucoin, Covington, La., was driving west on U.S. 90 to the accident said there "nobody in sight" except Donohue's car when it turned over.

Frank O'Bryant, New Orleans, was traveling east on the way when he came off the road, drove to Bay St. Louis to get for an ambulance for Donohue, Kenny said.

1. Learning to know the names and habits of trees.
2. Making tree specimen collections.

4. Counting the rings on a stump to find out how old the tree was and many other things which the club will do.

The purpose of the club will be to learn as much as possible about trees of Mississippi; their food, characteristics, relation to man and nature, their economic importance; to protect the natural resources of Mississippi in every way possible, and to influence others to do the same.

COUNTY AGENT'S NOTES

BY HOWARD F. SIMMONS
Hancock County Agent

POULTRY

Management is the key to successful poultry production—whether it be broilers or layers. Included among top management items are plenty of feed; crowding does not pay off in the chicken house. It is recommended that broilers be allowed at least one foot floor space per bird.

Replacement pullets, to be put on range at 4 to 6 weeks of age, need slightly less floor space. Three and a half feet per bird is a starting point and more will be needed for larger breed birds. Plenty of space at the feeders is vital to broiler growing. The more room a chick has, the more he can eat, and the more he eats the faster he will grow and get ready for market. A starting point for birds up to 6 weeks of age is two inches of space at the feeders. Birds 6 to 12 weeks old need four inches.

Chicks need a lot of clean, cool, fresh water. This is a must. Recommendations are for 2 one-gallon waterers for each 100 chicks. Broilers need 8 4-foot automatic waterers per 1000 birds. Ventilation also is a must. The house should be open from top to bottom on all four sides on warm days. On cooler days, the windward side should be closed but the other sides left open.

For more information on poultry management, see your county agent.

MAY OR SILAGE

Farmers who want hay or silage from oats, wheat or other cereal either alone or with legume should remove livestock by April 1 to April 15. Grazing any longer than this will cut the amount of stored feed.

By applying 30 to 40 pounds of nitrogen to cereals left for silage, the tonnage will be increased. Oats or wheat with a legume will yield six to 10 tons of silage per acre.

Two methods are in use for preserving grass silage. These are wilting or using a preservative. Two preservatives now recommended are blackstrap molasses and sodium metabisulphite. It will take 60 to 80 pounds of blackstrap per ton of grass or about 8 pounds of sodium metabisulphite for a ton of grass.

For summer silage crops sorghum will head the list of crops to put in. Four varieties now recommended are Tracy, Honey, Atlas and Sart. Three pounds of Trask seed and not over 5 or 6 of the others will be enough per acre.

Dixie 18 will be the most widely used corn variety for silage.

BUY FERTILIZER NOW

You will probably be doing yourself a big service by buying at least part of your fertilizer now and moving it to your farm. On most farms you can find a dry place to store this fertilizer for a short time.

Buying fertilizer now and storing it until it is needed is more trouble than simply buying it when you need it, bringing it home and putting it right out. But taking some home now is the only way you can be sure of getting all that you need this year. The situation is that our mixers are having to slow down because warehouses are full. To meet your needs each year, the mixers must produce several times more than they and the dealers can store at one time.

You, better than anyone else, know how much fertilizer you are going to need to make higher

GARDEN CLUB OBSERVING NATIONAL GARDEN WEEK

Bay-Waveland Garden Club this week is honoring Garden Week, being observed nation-wide April 17-23.

Since this is the season when this community has many visitors, the Garden Club is stressing cleanliness and beauty in Bay St. Louis.

"Don't be a Litterbug," the club cautioned. "After your picnics, beach parties and outings, do not leave our spots of natural beauty littered with trash."

The club urged housewives to be sure their garbage containers had well-fitted lids.

The club's delegate to the State Convention, Mrs. Waldo Otis, has returned with many blue ribbons awarded the club for outstanding work done during the last year.

WHITFIELD URGES

Whitfield said the program advocates the use of a dog tag similar to those worn by millions of Americans in the Armed Services. He gave the following outline of the CD value identification tag:

"Should attach come, such tag without doubt would be essential in reassembling families, and in ministering to needs of the lost and injured."

"Unless the program is put into full operation, the nation in war would lose some of its ability to recover—to pick itself up and strike back."

Whitfield reminded also of the peacetime value of the tag. "The information given on the identification tag," the CD Director declared, "will assist in restoring lost or injured persons to their families. In this connection, the tag has an especial value for minors or aged persons at all times."

"Speedy accomplishment of the job as a part of the overall Civil Defense program," he added, "is urgently needed to provide a bigger reservoir of strength should the nation be attacked."

I will elect me and that I must look after their interests, yet I will not lose sight of the fact that it is necessary to accomplish the things that I desire to accomplish in Beat Five that I work in harmony with and together with my fellow members of the Board. If elected, I shall work for the best interest of all people of Beat Five, and in harmony with the other members of the Board of Supervisors to accomplish the purposes of the people who elected me.

May I at this time take advantage of this opportunity to thank the fine people who have seen fit to, prior to this, elect me to public office, and I solicit their fine support again and also the support of those people who could not see their way clear, at the time, to vote for me for the other office that I sought.

At the present time I am regularly employed at Calmes Engineering Company and my duties with these people require that I spend eight to nine hours a day attending to my duties and it is very possible that I will not have the opportunity to see all of the voters of this Beat but I wish each and every one of you to consider this as a personal appeal from me, for your vote in the August Primary.

Your vote and support is respectfully and sincerely requested by me for Supervisor of Beat Five, Hancock County, Mississippi.
